

Product Specification &amp; Methodology	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Reinvention usually proceeds as follows:<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>▪ Modeling the new company (values, value proposition, vision, mission, strategy, targets, organization structure)</li><li>▪ Feasibility study (gap analysis and selection of the processes to be redesigned)</li><li>▪ Redesign of processes selected and other demands to the new organization</li><li>▪ Implementation</li><li>▪ Securing sustainability</li></ul></li><li>• Collateral execution of an organizational capability audit in order to secure the company being prepared for the new structure</li><li>• The whole process is accomplished by the company's staff, NUTs cares for consequence in implementation and execution</li><li>• All members of staff are directly incorporated into the process by appropriate concepts of involvement</li><li>• We accept (and call for) mutual responsibility and ask for<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>▪ the guts to embrace new trends and developments</li><li>▪ securing the consequent execution of the process by</li><li>▪ making appropriate decisions and sticking to them</li></ul></li></ul>
Sense of Urgency – Who Benefits?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Companies which realize the necessity for a radical change in order to master the challenges of the future</li><li>• Managing the change needs an implicitly redesign and a consequent implementation</li><li>• Denominator Management vs. Numerator Management: redesign is ranked before shrinking in health, cost cutting programs and/or continuous improvement systems – even if performance will decrease at first in order to skyrocket afterwards (an advancement which never were accomplished with traditional approaches)</li><li>• There is the unconditional willingness to follow through</li><li>• The company's faith in mastering this change is verifiable</li><li>• This kind of change process needs professional guidance in all phases of the project including the implementation of the new structures and for securing sustainability</li></ul>
Vision – a Clear Idea of One's Future	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• A company completely new and in line with future requirements</li><li>• Consequent bias and focus towards own vision and market's requirements</li><li>• Proud staff - having designed and shaped their future and learned about entrepreneurship they need</li></ul>
